

Elongated carving with a design of spirals and human faces with nostrils pierced and threaded with cords.

---

Not on display

Title/Description: Elongated carving with a design of spirals and human faces with nostrils pierced and threaded with cords.

Object Type: Sculpture

Materials: Fibre, Wood

Measurements: h 117 x w 10 x d 6 cm

Accession Number: 40063

Production Place: Pacific, Papua New Guinea

Credit Line: Bequeathed by Hugh Paget

---

---

---

---

Provenance

Bullroarers and churinga are male ceremonial objects that are regarded in Australia Aboriginal communities as secret-sacred. The Sainsbury Centre does not display or share images of the bullroarers and churinga boards in the collection. However, access will be allowed for study and research purposes. Access will not be restricted but all researchers will be informed about the sensitive nature of the material prior to access being granted.

---