

Wolf head pendant

On display

Title/Description: Wolf head pendant

Object Type: Ornament

Materials: Walrus ivory

Measurements: h. 32 mm

Accession Number: RLS 2

Historic Period: 19th/early 20th century

Production Place: Alaska, North America, Nunivak Island, The Americas

Credit Line: Bequeathed by Lady Sainsbury, 2014

This small pendant was possibly part of an ear ornament. It was originally suspended by the two holes on the disc, and also appears to have had a further pendant string round the neck of the wolf, passing out through a tiny aperture at the mouth (now broken, giving the appearance of two canines). The number 2231.32 is painted in white on the plain back.
