

Cup with bulbous pierced stem

On display

Title/Description: Cup with bulbous pierced stem

Measurements: h. 216 mm

Accession Number: 1161

Historic Period: Neolithic cultures (c. 2000 BC)

Cultural Group: Dawenkou

This blackware goblet has a straight cup with a flared rim. The stem is bulbous and irregularly pierced through to the hollow centre, in vertical lines running down its length. The base is the same diameter as the cup and has a carved, decorative line running around the edge. The finish has become smooth in places.

Helen Coleman, 1997
